

SANDLAKE – GALLOWAY ROAD CONSTRUCTION PROJECT

What's happening on the job?

With the project wrapping up for the winter season, Elte's crew remains busy finishing up those time consuming jobs that take handwork. They finished the slope cover and now are focusing on details such as making sure the gravel is sloped from the asphalt to ditch line properly, placing gravel around driveways, new signs, and general clean up.

With very little going on the newsletter is a little empty this week. I could add a riddle or puzzle but I'm not sure I would know the answer myself. So to save myself the embarrassment I will stay away from mind teasers.

In order to fill the page I simply increase the font, no need to get out the bifocals this week.

Next week expect traffic control on Sandlake Road from Three Capes to Sandlake store. Also some traffic control might be used on Galloway Road as the crew still has some minor cleanup work to complete.

Its possible that next week could be our last week of traffic control for the year. Time will tell.

Next week could be the last newsletter, except of course a Christmas greeting
